It will appear unaccountable to the public how whole battalions can make their way to the very vicinity of Lonisville, surprise our forces, burn bridges, destroy property and escape with impunity. men. Fonr-fifths of its resources are now They will be so again in a few weeks when in the power of the enemy by means of an army insignificant in numbers.

How long is this discreditable condition of things to remain?

Who or what is to blame for it? Shall we wait till the enemy is re-enforced, and posted at the most advantageous points, before we move?

It is amusing to read the Abolition organ at Washington accusing the National Intelligencer of treason. The editor of the Republican thinks if Jeff. Davis should get to Washington his paper alone would be anppressed; that Davis would be a good friend Jeff. would do a good thing if he suppressed would compensate for that little good. The Sulphur Water is especially beneficial. sin of the Intelligencer consists in its constant opposition to the emancipation of slaves, without which, the Republican thinks, the rebellion will never be put down. Now, why doesn't the Republican editor has about as much power to accomplish the end as the Government of the United States, and as much law for its guide

The Republican ought to order the arrest of Lee, Jackson and others, who seem to stand very much in the way of its projects. friends," than Abraham Lincoln. These rebels stand between the Republican and the African servants, so that the Reand then they will not be in the way of the Republican's notions about negroes. Putling down the rebellion by emancipating slaves is equal to the stereotyped plan proposed to little boys to catch birds since Adam was a lad-throw salt on their tails; and there is just about as much statesmanship and sense in it. And yet these crazy noodles assune to set themselves up as judges of patriotism by their asinine standard. According to them, whoever is not a simpleton is a traitor. Had it not been for such men as the editor of the Republican, the conspirators of the South would have failed to rally the force they have to their standard; aud if Abraham Lincoln would suppress the Republicau and all such treasouable and revolutionary sheets, and not leave it for Jeff Davis to do, he would aid his cause more than he could by any war measure be could adopt.

16 is suggested now that foreign powers will intervene, when informed of late'rebel successes; but foreign powers are not so ready to put their fingers into the fire as some suppose. They have as much also; and just here I must tell the following interest in the good will of the Government as in that of the South at last. The South as in that of the South at last. The South can do them no harm, except in withholding the post at Richmond, for a pass to come cotton, and King Cotton is played out. He is a poor King. Ilis subjects are committing him to the flames to the best of their abilities.

· These foreign powers may recognize the independence of the Southern Confederacy, and, no doubt, they rejoice in the hope that the great Republican bubble is burst; but they don't feel in haste to place themselves in the way of its barning fragments.

They have already done all that an acknowledgment of the Southern Confederacknowledgment of the Southern Confederacy would amonnt to, in allowing full belligerent rights, and placing both parties on an equality. The acknowledgment is a Humphrey Marshall, Cerro Gordo Williams, mere formality. They know, too, that these at Baton Ronge at last accounts, but had been ordered to Kentucky to give the cause prestige in his native State. Williams has Thompson and Hutchinson, of the Interior gnarding the point evacuated their position on Saturday. mere formality. They know, too, that these Buckner and Breckinridge. John C. was before they get ready to interpose the whole aspect of the case may be changed. After all, the rebels have only a temporary reprieve from imminent and immediate annihilation, which threatened them a few nihilation, which threatened them a few constraints and the same of months ago, and which is only postponed.

The National Republican, the Abolltion organ at Washington, is a good deal same period. exercised because the Intelligencer publishes the speech of Wardsworth, made in the Congress of the United States. The organ calls it treasonable. In this hour of the national calamity party still rules that sheet. It seems to have but one object—a sheet. There is a class of editors who clamor for a vigorous policy, and when you in loud proclamations and barbarous practices. The Generals they admire never won a battle. They have uniformly failed in the field. Fremont, Hunter, Phelps, Mitchel, and Pope, are their model Generals, because they have proclaimed slaves free, made empty threats of vengeance upon rebels, and allowed savage practices by their troops. All this is madness, and the result of conscious weakness and unmanly temper. Any incompetent commander can exercise such vigor; and the weakest enemy can retaliate for such conduct.

General Hunter Is relieved of his is hardly a chief of police in our large of sight; but why put Mitchel in his place? to return over the same road it came. Last Sunday our wounded being in such condition; Dr. Greene started off to meet ambulances repairing to their assistance under a flagof truce, and when within hailing distance, was met by Gen. A. P. Hill, at the head of his division, who ordered him to rcturn to Gainesville, where he remained a prisoner for three days. After laying his case before Gen. Walker, who came into the yard where the prisoners were kept, he was unconditionally released.

Dr. Greene furnishes the following: When the battle was at its height, Friday, Jackson being in command, the rebel army, heavily pressed by our troops, began to waver and fall back, when the rumbling of Longstreet's artillery was heard coming to their assistance, and instantly a shout went up. Owing to circumstances, it infused new courage in the rebels, and when this re-enforcement arrived, at noon to-day, they made a fresh assault upon our lines, dashing over the wounded of the day previous, who were lying upon the ground without any shelter whatever, and many of whom were badly injured

Gen. McClellan's Silence.

Gen. McClellan has won respect for his sharacter from all thinking men by speech which has been silver, but more by silence which has been golden. Almost from "On to Richmond' days till now he has been the target of unscrupulous assault. Politi-cal hostility and personal malevolence have discharged all their weapons. His military abilities have been belittled by his enemies more than they have been overrated by his friends. The good use which he has made of the spade to counterbalance the enemy's odds in muskets only earned for him from them the epithet of Ditcher." Because he dld not use as a hospital the White House, which was put to other and better service, he was accused of collnsion with traitors. He long received and put at work all the negroes which came to his lines, yet was always accused of excluding them. His plans were thwarted by the Intrigues of his enemies at Washington, yet he was made responsi-ble for the failures thus caused. He never underrated the power of the enemy, yet It has required the bitter lessons of a twelve-month to convince the radicals that he was over two regiments of cavalry and threw over a pontoon bridge and crossed with artillery, and threw out pickets towards Poolesville.

THESE SEWING MACHINES COMBINE THE most recent improvements, are nearly noiseless, when in operation, run with the greatest case and rapidity, and are better adapted for general purposes and family use than any other. They are not liable to get out of order, are exceedingly simple, and are made expressly for real practical utility; they do every variety of sewing, from the finest woven tissue to the heaviest woolen goods, both tailoring and fine leather work. Any person may learn to operate them in a very short time. The great difficulty with all other old-style Machines is too much complication, requiring so much constant adjustment, and such an amount of mechanical skill and Ingennity to use them to advantage, as to reader them of little comparative value.

But the Sewing Machinea manufactured by Greenman & True are not liable to these objections, as any person, on even a moment's examination, will readily discover. They will do more and letter work than any other Machine ever offered to the public, nuking the most beautiful lock-stitch, alike on both sides. Send fur as nof-hand specimen of sewing upon any material you wish, and you will theu see How it is done.
